PROHIBITION.

When Gilmore wants prohibition he will let you know about it. There is one kind of prohibition that Gilmore feels interested about, and that is to prohibit people from paying enormous prices for their Clothing and Furnishing Goods. Goods that are not worth the price asked for them are prohibited from having a "resting" place in Gilmore's Store. Gilmore will not prohibit you from having a careful look over his stock, but he does prohibit any one from leaving his store without a smile of satisfaction beaming on their pleased face.

W ves should prohibit their Hus-b nd from trading anywhere else.

A PRISON ON WHEELS.

Four B. C. Convicts Sent from New Westminster to Rockwood.

Word was received in New Westminster last Wednesday of the safe arrival in Kingston of Deputy Warden Fitzsimmons and his guard with four insane convicts for the Rockwood Insane Asylum. Two of these were under sentence of death, but had their sentences commuted to imprisonment for life; the other two were serving a term of nine and ten years respectively for crimes which are hereafter specified. No provision having been made for their safe keeping in this province, Mr. Moylan, Inspector of Penitentiaries, deemed it prudent to have them transferred to the Rockwood Insane Asylum, a branch of the Kingston penitentiary. The sanction of the Minister of Justice to the transfer having been obtained, arrangements were at once made for their removal. A baggage car belonging to the C. P. R. was transformed into a temporary jail. Four cells, each 10x3 feet, strongly built and with iron gratings, had been put up in each corner of the car and furnished with very good jail accommodation. Additional precautions had been taken in the shape of strong iron bars at each entrance to the car and iron gratings before the windows. In fact the interior of the car looked for all the world like an expressly built traveling jail. On the way east the novel car attracted considerable attention. The Winnipeg Call thus describes the convicts as seen by its reporter:

Shearer, the man who murdered Mr. Murne in broad day light by stabbing him from behind, early last spring, appeared in the dim twilight of his darkened cell rather more fiend than human. His face, though calm, bore unmistakeable traces of uncontrollable passion, while his restless, glittering eyes, stubby beard, dough-like face and dishevelled attire added to his repulsive appearance. As he rose from his recumbent attitude in response to the deputy warden's voice, the clank of chains could be heard. In reply to a brief query, he remarked, with an assumption of weariness in his tone, "that he felt a little better." It will be remembered he was sentenced to be hanged on June 6th last, but insanity having developed his sentence was commuted to one of life imprisonment. His narrow escape from the gallows appears to have left a strong impression on his mind, and when his thoughts are not running on his heinous crime, they are concentrated on the gallows. His thoughts being thus divided between strangulation and the details of his crime his insanity idea fair to be of the most violent description.

Duroche was confined in the next cell and had continued glaring at the visitors ever since their entrance. A peculiarly ugly grin on his face did not in any way soften the tigerish light that gleamed from his eyes, but he was a trifle less repulsive than Shearer. Madness, however, was stamped on every line of his yellow wrinkled countenance. He was convicted in company with two other others named Manford and Colleny, with complicity in a murder near Kamloops, and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Becoming insane, it was decided to send him east.

Knight, a colored man, appeared to take his position very philosophically. He had an idea he wanted to go to some place on the coast, and was confident he was being conveyed thither, although he declared emphatically that this route was a novel one to him. On being questioned he became quite loquacious, and rapidly sketched a few particulars in his past life. It was impossible to make out quite how many times he had crossed from Mobile to Europe, but they appeared to have been legion. He was serving a term of nine years for cutting a man with an axe. His insanity grew with his imprisonment.

Barrie looked despondent and pale, but seemed very tractable. He had been originally sentenced to four years for robbery, but having assaulted a guard with a pitchfork, had had six years added to his term.

Deputy Warden Fitzsimmons was employed as guard for twenty-one years in Kingston penitentiary, but was transferred to his present position in 1878. He had three assistants along with him, one a mounted policeman returning to Toronto, the other one of the guards of the penitentiary, and the third a colored man desirous of working his way back to New York. Mr. Fitzsimmons is also accompanied by his wife, and has three months leave of absence, but expects to return within a month. Beds have been fixed in the cars for the guards, who watch in turn. When the party left there were 84 convicts in the British Columbia penitentiary, a large proportion being Chinese.

HON. T. B. HUMPHREYS IN THE FIELD.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR—I submit it must be a matter for congratulation to every one concerned in the satisfactory working of our Provincial Government that Mr. Humphreys has consented to come forward as a candidate in the approaching election, not that I mean to say a word in disparagement of Mr. Turner; everyone knows he is a good man and worthy of the position offered, but that there is urgently needed at the present time an addition to the ranks of the opposition with the adaptation of debate so eminently possessed by Mr. Humphreys. The affairs of the province, as the ministry is now constituted, means John Robson first, last, and all the time; or in other words, from the position he is allowed to assume, it has become the one man government with objectionable tendencies. There can be little doubt the return of Mr. Turner as finance minister would serve to conform and consolidate this monopolising power, Mr. Turner figuring as Man Friday to this Robinson Crusoe. Whatever may be said or done in opposition to Hon. T. B. Humphreys as a public man, it cannot be denied that he has great redeeming qualities, and if elected possesses the adaptation to make himself eminently useful to the community as a member of the house at this critical juncture "AND NO MISTAKE."

CHINA STEAMERS.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR—Ordinarily I should pay no attention to the statement of an anonymous correspondent in a newspaper, but one such, in a letter which appeared in the Colonist of the 2nd inst., accuses me of bad faith in not requiring the trans-Pacific steamships to call at Victoria, and I am informed that charge is believed by a good many people in your city. I explained to the council of the Board of Trade of Victoria some months ago our relation with the Steamships. We sought the connection and made the best bargain we could, but we are not, and have not been from the beginning, in a position to dictate terms to the steamship owners. They contracted to carry our freight and passengers to and from China and Japan and reserved the right to carry any Pacific coast business they could get at any rates and in any manner they might see fit. The agreement did not give the railway company the right to say a word about any traffic except that coming or going over its line. Immediately after my last visit to Victoria I took up, with the steamship owners, the question of calling at Victoria, both on the outward and inward trips. They agreed to stop outside for passengers on outward voyages, but insisted that they could do nothing more without endangering their insurance. They insisted, also, that consignments for Victoria could not be landed there because, owing to the way the ships are loaded, at Yokohama especially, where freight is brought to the ship's side in junks, it is impossible to keep consignments separate. We did not let the matter rest with this, but I fear we have now reached a finality, as the owners are informed by the underwriters that the extra insurance in case of calls at Victoria or Esquimalt will be from one-quarter to one-half per cent. on the entire cargo, which would kill the whole business.

We do not intend that any person or community shall have reason to accuse the Canadian Pacific Company of bad faith in any matter, and I trust that when we are condemned by the business men of Victoria it will be on more substantial evidence than that of a newspaper correspondent who has not the courage to sign his name.

W. C. VAN HORNE.

Montreal, Aug. 11, 1887.

THOMPSON RIVER BRIDGE.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR—I understand from notice in the Inland Sentinel that tenders for the construction of the long talked of bridge at Peterson's crossing, Kamloops, are about being received by the Surveyor General, Lands and Works Department. Unfortunately this is about the worst possible point to select, as in the first place, at high water the bridge will be of no use owing to the low lying lands on the Indian reserve being flooded, sometimes to the depth of five or six feet. In the second place it will form an easy mode of communication between the dusky inhabitants of the reserve and the town, and consequently will facilitate the smuggling of liquor by the people to whom it is very wisely prohibited. Our worthy member, Mr. Vernon, as well as everyone familiar with the past history of Kamloops, can testify as to the evils done in this town and neighborhood. And in the last place, outside the Indians a very small number of people would be accommodated, only thirteen ranchers living on the South and North Thompson to whom it would be available. In our opinion the best point for the bridge would be a little below the Cosmopolitan Hotel, or at the Hudson's Bay crossing, where a ferryboat is now in almost constant requisition. The ferryman on occasions (he himself owns) earns as much as $40 in a day. Here there are no low-lying lands to contend with, and no fewer than twenty-two ranchers reside on this side North and South rivers, who are compelled to use the ferry as a highway to Kamloops, besides a large number of mill employes and other workmen as well as miners, both white men and Chinamen, engaged in taking out gold on Tranquille creek. Steps ought to be taken by the Government to see that the public funds are expended on the construction of this bridge in the most necessary and convenient place, and if made a toll-bridge the whole money could in a very few years be collected.

A STEAMER BURNED.

The Inman Steamer City of Montreal Burned at Sea.

Thirteen Passengers Missing—Landing the Survivors.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Inman line S.S. City of Montreal, has been destroyed by fire at sea, and thirteen persons perished. The Montreal left New York on August 6th for Liverpool, commanded by Capt. Land. The news of her destruction was learned on the arrival at Queenstown this morning of the British steamer York City, Capt. Benn, which left Baltimore on August 4th for London. This steamer rescued the survivors from the burning vessel and brought them to Queenstown. The burning of the steamer occurred on the 11th instant, five days after she left New York. A boat containing six passengers and seven members of the crew is missing. The occupants of this boat are the thirteen persons reported to have perished. The ill-fated steamer had four hundred and twenty passengers on board. The passengers and crew were taken off to the York City by the tug Mount Etna, and landed at Queenstown. All were accounted for but the 13 persons in the missing boat. It is learned that shortly after the passengers had gone to bed on the night of the 10th, the ship being in lat. 43 north at the time, they were aroused by the alarm of fire. A scene of consternation ensued, and the passengers were greatly terrified when they found out the true state of affairs. The smoke caused by the fire was suffocating, nevertheless the passengers dressed and got on deck, with but little appearance of a panic. The fire originated in the cotton store in the after main hold. Nine streams of water were soon working on the flames, and the course of the vessel was shaped for Newfoundland, 400 miles distant. The flames spread with great rapidity, and soon burst with terrific force through the midway and after hatchway, the heat being intense.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The officials of the Inman line have no direct advices about the City of Montreal. She left this city on the 6th inst., and was four days overdue. She had no first cabin passengers, but carried 233 intermediate and 115 steerage. The City of Montreal measured 432 feet over all, 45 feet in moulded width beam, and 34 feet deep. Her gross tonnage was 4195. She was built by Toby & Co., of Glasgow, in 1881, was an iron screw steamer, and had nine bulkheads. She was equipped with compound engines, having 600 horse power.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—It became apparent that it was impossible to save the ship. A momentary panic ensued, the boats were lowered and the passengers and crew got into them. The boats scattered and one entirely vanished. This contained two stewards, two seamen and seven passengers, and there is but little doubt the whole boat load perished. This particular boat did not contain a full crew and left the Montreal against the Captain's orders, as there was time to take many more. The survivors consider the fate of the occupants of the lost boat a judgment for their cowardice. A bark was sighted shortly after the boats of the steamer and crew were preparing to pick up survivors, when the steamer York City, attracted by the flames of the burning vessel, which were shooting up a hundred feet in the air, bore down and, with difficulty, took all hands on board. The rescued people were treated with the utmost kindness by the captain and crew of the York City, and the passengers speak with feeling of the consideration which was accorded them. The York City proceeded to London after landing the Montreal's passengers at Queenstown. The survivors are unanimous in declaring that the officers and crew of the City of Montreal did their best nobly and skillfully. The names of those missing are: Passengers—Samuel Kaufman, G. Arnold, Saml. McKee; intermediate—Kinard Woods, Stephen Tupper, Rimon Rowley, S. Kackeingka; crew—Henry Fraser, Chas. Reade, William Fracy.

BANK OF LONDON SUSPENDS.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Bank of London suspended payment this morning. The bank had a capital of one million dollars, of which $223,588 is paid up. Very little loss is anticipated by stockholders.

THE LEAGUE AND UNIONISTS.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—It is learned to-day on good authority that the government has decided to proclaim the National League. Their action last night on the land bills means practically the abandonment of that measure.

The News says: The Marquis of Hartington and Chamberlain jointly have advised that it would be impolitic to proclaim the league till the effect of the new land act was seen. The News welcomes the change in Chamberlain's political attitudes, and says it is some time since he adopted such a tone toward the government, as characterized by his action in the debate last night.

IS STANLEY DEAD?

BRUSSELS, Aug. 17.—At the office of the Congo Free State association and other well informed circles the report that Stanley was murdered is discredited. Letters received in London from him dated July 19, from Gambraja village are to the effect that the party were all well on June 19th.

BRITISH AFFAIRS.

The Government Abandons a Number of Bills—More Cruisers.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Wm. Henry Smith announces that the government would abandon the title rent charge bill, technical educational bill, Goschen's revenue collection bill, Irish constabulary bill, and other minor measures. He indicated measures that the government intended to proceed with which include the land allotment bills. Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt expressed himself satisfied with the list of bills retained by the government. He noticed it did not mention the coercion bill No. 2, and he hoped it had been dropped. (Cheers from Irish members.)

Sir Henry Holland, colonial secretary, replying to the question of Sir George Campbell in relation to a bill passed by the Queensland Government, said the Queen had advised that the government at once assume sovereignty of New Guinea. Questions concerning the pioneer settlers of the island, he said, would be reserved until the sovereignty was proclaimed.

Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, replying to Mr. Baker Howell, said the government had made arrangements with the Peninsula and Oriental Steamship Co., by which the company would have three new steamers and seven others ready for use as armed cruisers. For this service the government would pay the steamship company £3500 annually.

AMERICAN NEWS.

THE BEHRING SEA OUTRAGE.

At Last the British Government Asks for Explanations.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Her Britanic Majesty's representative in Washington, has asked of the United States explanation for the seizure in Behring sea on July 9th, 12th, 17th, of the schooner W. P. Sayward, the steam schooner Dolphin and the steam schooner Grace, all of Victoria, B. C., captured by the U.S. revenue cutter Rush and carried into Sitka, Alaska. The request is couched in diplomatic language, and makes no allusion as to the legality of the captures. It simply asks that Her Majesty's Government may be informed of the facts. In reply a certified copy of the report of Capt. Shepard, commanding the revenue cutter Rush has been transmitted to the British Minister.

A HOAX.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The mutual district messenger Sanger returned this morning from Europe on the steamer Champagne, having satisfactorily delivered the souvenirs entrusted to him by Mgr. Frohman of the Lyceum theatre, for friends in London. Young Sanger says he had a delightful trip, and was splendidly treated. He denies the story of his arrest for violating the English postal laws, and says the story was a hoax.

FORGER CLARK.

TRUCKEE, Cal., Aug. 14.—The examination of A. P. Clark on the charge of forgery in Justice Dunster's court was concluded last evening. He was held to appear before the Superior Court with bonds fixed at $6000.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 17.—The Sons of St. George in convention this afternoon, appointed the committee to arrange for a branch to be known as the Cadets of the Sons of St. George, to which sons of the members of the order will be eligible.

LARGE CARGO OF BEANS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The steamer Geo. W. Elder, which sailed for Victoria to-day, carried over fifteen car loads of beans, all of which is destined for St. Louis. This, perhaps, is the heaviest single shipment of beans that has ever left this city, the C. P. R. having taken it at a rate which enables it to be laid down in St. Louis at a figure to successfully compete with eastern produce. The shipment relieves the bean market in San Francisco, and does something to help the trade of the coast with the east. The same route, by means of low rates, is encouraging large shipments of California wines into the Northwest, shipments by the present steamer being very heavy.

CABLE TO HONOLULU.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Secretary of State Bayard has recommended to Congress the establishment of a cable telegraphic service between San Francisco and Honolulu.

THE BEAR SAFE.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 19.—In a letter received to-day by Rev. Father Healy, from his brother Capt. Healy, of the revenue steamer Bear, he announced that he had beached his vessel, constructed a cofferdam and found the leak, replaced the copper and gone on his northern voyage. The rumor of the loss of the Bear is contradicted by the captain's report.

PROF. FOWLER DEAD.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Prof. Fowler, the noted phrenologist and tutor, died this morning, after an illness of only 30 hours. The cause of death was spinal trouble, superinduced by a heavy cold.

BAD CASE OF HYDROPHOBIA.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 19.—Milton Cox, planter, suffering hydrophobia, bit his wife several times last night, inflicting serious injuries. HUDSON BAY FISHERY.

A Region where the Americans Carry on an Illegal Trade Unmolested.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Captain Gordon, in his last report on Hudson Bay exploration, again calls the attention to the fact that the Canadian Government has neglected to do anything towards protecting the valuable whale, seal and salmon fisheries of that region, which are a great source of profit to American vessel owners. He also shows that Yankees frequenting Hudson Bay carry on an extensive trading business, smuggling in all their goods and exchanging them with natives for furs, oil, whalebone, etc.

THE ELECTION TO-MORROW.

Contrary to the expectations of the government the new Finance Minister will have to fight for re-election. Since accepting office, the organ of the ministry has been nursing the delusion that opposition to the government had completely disappeared in Victoria, and on several occasions has commented upon the fact that no opponent was forthcoming as an evidence of the popularity of the present remnant of the SMYTHE administration. Among a considerable number of the opposition a feeling doubtless prevailed that all things considered it might not be politic to enter into a contest at the present juncture, and that it would be better to await the advent of the general election. But there are also many who, believing that temporizing meant partial acquiescence, have declined to be guided by the former. A requisition was therefore prepared and numerously signed, requesting the Hon. T. B. HUMPHREYS to stand for election, and that gentleman, having consented, was placed in nomination to day. It is needless to comment upon Mr. HUMPHREYS' qualifications for the position. He is an admirable platform speaker, and is well informed on all public questions. As a member of the House, he would take a leading position, and although he would sit upon the left of Mr. Speaker he would undoubtedly accomplish more for the good of the province, in devising and carrying through useful legislation, than his opponent, full-blown cabinet minister though he might be. Mr. HUMPHREYS has received assurances of support from unexpected quarters, and is sanguine that he will obtain enough votes to place him at the head of the poll. As the public are aware, we have not counselled opposition to the return of Mr. TURNER; but now that a contest is inevitable we have no hesitation in advising the friends of good and economical government to rally to the support of Mr. HUMPHREYS. The contest will be a short one, and no time can be given to canvassing, which of itself is not an objectionable feature, although the result will very probably be a small vote. Mr. TURNER is a strong candidate personally, while weak politically, whereas the converse may be said to be true of Mr. HUMPHREYS. But Mr. TURNER has failed, during his brief parliamentary career, to carry out the pledges which he made to the people. He has proved to be a paradox, for while as a private individual his word could be relied upon, as a politician his pledge is of doubtful value. His acceptance of office and the attitude he thought it his duty to his constituents to take on the Chinese question during the late session, are evidence that precept and practice are not with him synonymous terms. But apart from the personality of the candidates there are powerful reasons for strengthening the hands of the opposition, and if the electors study these carefully, and exercise the franchise according to their convictions, the result will be decidedly unpleasant to the government.

A WISE SUGGESTION.

The Dominion exhibition will be held this year in Toronto, beginning on the 5th and continuing till the 17th of September. Combined with the Dominion is the Industrial, Toronto's own show. The prizes to be awarded foot up a total close upon $30,000, by all odds the largest sum yet given by any of Canada's great industrial exhibitions. The Industrial has always been a success, but the additional grant of $10,000 by the Dominion will have the effect of adding greatly to the eclat of Toronto's great annual show. Following the Toronto show, commencing on the 20th of September, comes the Provincial, which is regarded as one of Ontario's established institutions in the agricultural line. In addition to these big shows are the Western, at London; the Central, at Guelph, and the Southern, at Hamilton, all extending over a period of several days. Then there is the Provincial for the province of Quebec, also a great exhibition. All these shows are open to competition to the world. They will be visited by hundreds of thousands of people, many of whom will be from foreign lands. The suggestion has been made that the Provincial Government should take steps to have the products of this country represented at these shows. There is yet ample time wherein this can be done. In the east there is much enquiry in reference to the Pacific Coast province. Many have their eyes directed towards the land of the setting and midnight sun. In no other way can the resources of our country be displayed to such advantages as by its natural products, to be nicely and artistically arranged and accompanied by some intelligent person familiar with its agricultural, pastoral, mining, timber and fishery resources, as well as the climate, combined with its trade, commerce and manufacturing capabilities. No advertisement in the shape of pamphlets, which at best but deals with and in generalities, is so effective as a personal inspection of the products of the country. We are assured the C. P. R. will give reasonable and rapid transit to products intended for exhibition, such as we have already indicated.

Another suggestion is that the Canadian Pacific management arrange for an excursion from ocean to ocean, or from Victoria to Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and London. A large number have signified their intention of going east for a visit to their former homes and friends were a reasonably low rate offered. They are anxious to witness the exhibitions to be held in the premier province of the Dominion, but the distance is great and the cost heavy. From what we have heard were a rate of say $80 to $90 quoted for a round trip ticket from here to the points named given, good for sixty or even ninety days, and a Pullman sleeper placed at the disposal of the excursionists so as not to increase the cost beyond $10 or $12 for berths, we are certain that at least three dozen would take advantage of the cheap rate and make the trip. Provisions would be unnecessary as meals can be obtained on board the elegant dining cars flying across the continent between Vancouver and Montreal. In going east arrangements could be made to allow the car to lay over at points of interest; while excursionists could return at any time inside the period named. It is to be hoped the hint thus thrown out will be acted upon by the management on this coast, and an opportunity given our people of going east to behold the great strides being there made in agriculture, the fine arts and mechanism.

"WHILE SIR JOHN LIVES."

Such expressions as the following are utterances to be heard every day relative to Canada and Canadian affairs generally: "So long as Sir JOHN lives, the Conservative party is likely to hold together," "So long as Sir JOHN lives, Commercial Union and other great issues are bound to be held in play," "So long as Sir JOHN lives, Confederation will last."

Commenting on these the Week observes that they are significant as showing the astonishing impress of a single personality on the destinies of a country of the area and population with which the geographies credit ours. If we were a petty German principality of yesterday or a Central American Republic of to-day this one-man-power among us would be less remarkable, but that two millions of people, of antipathetic races, warring creeds, and the diversity of interest that must exist with the diversity of natural conditions from Halifax to Victoria, should look to a single potent individual for the settlement of their concerns so long as he is able to settle them, is a paradox upon self government. That the majority outside his own immediate followers look to him not actively and hopefully, but passively and with the cynicism born of long acquaintance with his political methods, makes the national attitude more inexplicable still. It might reasonably be supposed that a people as virile and intelligent as Canadians would take it upon themselves to decide their own future. Yet "while Sir JOHN lives" is the limit of their prediction. So long as that wily politician remains on earth he may be confidently expected to remain in office. His policy is fairly well known, except during periods of general election, when its contortions are only temporary. Up to his death, therefore, we know in part and we prophecy in part what is to become of us. Beyond that paralyzing event, knowledge is lacking and prophecy fails.

In the meantime we are drifting towards Sir JOHN'S obsequies, melancholy as the fact may be, and forces are openly and assiduously at work preparing us for the crisis that will follow them. Chief among these are the influences of the two great dailies and the host of little dailies that borrow their opinions, of contact with our American neighbors and all that it implies, of British connection and history. All these are bearing heavily upon native character, which is no longer colonial but Canadian in every sense, of full stature, of independent thought and word, of conscious power to arbitrate its own destiny whenever "Sir JOHN" unwillingly relinquishes that pleasing duty. The outcome is difficult indeed to foresee; but it is regrettable that, amid the clangour of arguments with which the people are assailed just now, more is not said about the dignity and worth of our national entity. We are very far from being British, equally far from being American, yet we are willing to defy the charge of being unduly puffed up when we assert that some of the best qualities of both are assimilated in the Canadian character. We are imbued with American characteristic principle and progressive spirit, with British ideals of justice, religion, and culture. We have made our educational system one of the finest in the world. Our people are law-abiding, church-going and thrifty. There are a million Canadians in the United States, many of them occupying positions of responsibility and honor, and doing so well as one distinct sixtieth of the population that their success has become notable even among the remaining fifty-nine sixtieths. What is the tap-root of their prosperity? Canadian national character, wrested from the soil, inbreathed with the air, absorbed with the mother's milk of this country.

BILL NYE IN THE SOUTH.

He Finds Unusual Winters Wherever He Goes.

IN MY SUNNY SOUTHERN HOME,
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Dec. 6.

I write these lines from the south. I came here in order to evade the severe winters of the north. I have tried to show in the inclosed sketch how I appear while in the act of evading the severe winters of the extreme north. It is, of course, only a rough draught, but that was the kind of draught we were having when I made the sketch.

BILL NYE, IN THE SUNNY SOUTH.

The tracks in the foreground are only ideal tracks. They did not exist in reality at the time I made the sketch. In the left middle foreground stands the author of these lines, wrapped in earnest thought and a pair of adult ear muffs. He is about to become the author of the tracks shown in the foreground. These tracks lead to the kitchen, where there is a warm fire.

A large magnolia grove may be seen by going over the range of hills shown in the autumn background and bearing off to the left about 300 miles. In the house there is a can of Budweiser beer and a case of croup.

The earnest gentleman in the foreground has just been out playing in the snow with a fire shovel and is about to return it to the owner. He is less fluent with this instrument than with the poker game, of which he is passionately fond.

In the background to the left of the toboggan slide, may be seen a family of Christmas trees in repose. This region is noted for its Christmas trees, rhododendrons and rheumatism.

Many people come here to spend the winter and what spare change they may have on hand at the time.

Beyond the farthest line of hills at the back of this picture, and extending as far as the eye can reach, may be seen a broad expanse of climate. Climate here is as free as air. Such as it is, every one may help himself to it.

I thought before I came here that I would find the article floating through the soughing bows of the magnolia and the mocking bird coying to its mate, but as I write the snow is nearly two feet deep on a level, trains are not expected for six days and the snow is still falling.

Imagine a slight, almost girlish, figure like my own, clad in a crinkled seersucker, a Mackinaw hat and a fire shovel battling with the elements and digging holes through the virgin snow in order to get to the grocery store.

"Yet, once I was pure as the beautiful snow."

It wasn't over twelve or thirteen years ago at the outside.

I had thought that the odor of the orange blossom and the mint julep would float along upon the gentle brow of the soft and voluptuous air. I had pictured to myself a land of gentle suns and soughing breezes, instead of which I seem to be the principal sougher myself.

I was fool enough to imagine this a broad and beautiful green state, with here and there a dark red isothermal line across it, but the whole surface of the earth is covered knee deep with the same kind of snow that people select up in Manitoba when they decide to perish and want something in which to do up their remains.

People here say that this is an unusual winter, and that is why I am utterly disappointed. I've been in Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Maine, Oregon, Montana, Washington territory, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Chicago in winter, but in each one of these localities I was so unfortunate as to strike an unusual winter. For thirty-five years and in various parts of the United States I have been the victim of unusual winters. I came here to evade this very thing. I said to my family last fall: "It looks now as though we are going to have another of those unusual winters here. We will go south just as soon as we can and see how it will be there."

The result is, that old timers say they never had such an unusual winter since they have been here, although the winters have been growing more and more unusual for ten years.

I thought that here I would sit on the vine embowered porch all the livelong day and smoke a cob pipe, while drowsy influences and enervating sloth would soothe my troubled breast. So far it has been different. The houses are made to resist the mild cold of what may be termed a usual winter, but, greatly to the surprise of every one, there hain't been a winter of that kind here before the war.

Therefore the raw and chilling blast comes stealing up through the shrunken floors and seeks out the northern gentleman who has left his winter underwear at home in his trunk.

I am trying to tell the everlasting truth, for I know that I shall be criticised, but there is as much winter right here to-day, with less preparation to resist it and the prospect of more actual suffering among the poor and improvident, of which classes there are a great many, than anywhere in the north where I have been.

What I reproach the southern builder for is his absolute failure to build houses that will protect people from the cold. Last winter people ate their breakfasts clothed in fur overcoats and mittens in Florida, and here comes a little flurry of snow, lasting three days already, and still falling, while three tobacco warehouses have already fallen in with the weight of the snow on their roofs; but the houses that will be erected here next summer will be thrown together in the same wild and reckless manner by carpenters who yet fondly hope to witness a winter that will fit their perforated style of architecture.

If you will excuse me I will cease writing in order to nail a bed quilt up to the window where too much climate is now gently stealing in and freezing some of my children.—Bill Nye in New York World.

Why the Baby Was Smaller.

"Why don't baby grow faster, love?" asked a young father of the partner of his joys. "It seems to me she isn't nearly so big as Smith's baby, and she is two months younger."

"Doctor says Birdie is a fine, healthy, child, and what more do you want?"

"That may be, but she is small. Do you give her enough to eat?"

"That's it, Harry; we feed her on condensed milk. Of course she'd be small!"—Chicago Ledger.

Odds Fish.

"What do you think our fathers were?" asked the lecturer. And then we left the hall, because the conundrum was so easy and the subject so commonplace. Our fathers were not very good all round swearers. They swore neat, wrinkledly "od zooks" and "odds fish," "gadzooks" and "fore gad," "sounds," "zounds," "zounds," and a lot of such rubbish. Still, they may be pretty good words to swear with. Certainly they aren't fit for anything else.—Robert J. Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

We little know what an infant's mind answers unconsciously.

Standing by the Soldier.

Circuit Judge McCallum, of Iowa, began his career at the bar characteristically. His first case was before a justice of marked morality, who was extremely harsh with criminals. The weakness of the old Puritan was his veneration for veterans of the war, all of whom he esteemed as unrewarded heroes. McCallum had fought four years. His client was a thief. "The only thing I can do for you," said McCallum, after having gained the man's confidence, "is to implore the mercy of the court. When you go on the stand tell the whole truth."

The man had stolen a cow, killed it, sold the hide, and taken the carcass home to his family, which was really suffering for the necessaries of life. The prosecution, with a long line of witnesses, had made out a perfect case, and the brow of the justice was draped in ominous frowns when the prisoner was called. The latter did as directed by his attorney, concealing nothing—from the almost starving condition of his wife and family to the dressing of the stolen beef.

"Now, your honor," said McCallum, "the defense has no witnesses. My client is guilty. He has hidden nothing from this court. It is the first time he ever transgressed the laws. He was inspired to do wrong by that instinct which we even admire in brutes." Then, turning to the prisoner, as if the fact had nearly escaped him, McCallum said: "By the way, you were a soldier in the late war, were you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"Weren't you at Gettysburg?"

"Yes, sir."

"So was I. And you were in other historic battles, fighting for your country, while your wife and family suffered from want at home?"

"Yes, sir."

The prosecution at this point saw the way the case was drifting and attempted to ridicule the "old soldier defense," as the prosecuting attorney named it.

The effect on the old justice was to arouse all his loyalty and indignation. "Enough of this," said he, bringing his hand down on the desk in front of him with a thundering thud. "No soldier, no man who has shed his best blood for his country, not even if he be a criminal, can be reviled in my presence. The prisoner is discharged. And, sir, when you are suffering for the necessaries of life again come to me."

The joke was too good to keep. McCallum told the justice one day that the old soldier was an ex-Confederate, but never again did McCallum practice in that court.—Chicago News.

The India Rubber Boy.

A STORY WITHOUT WORDS.

About Time for Rube to Go Home.

The postmaster of a town in Kansas has received the following letter, but has seen nothing of Rube: "If this should meet his eye he will know that he had absent himself no longer from his Martha Ann; she writes:

MR. POSTOFFICE KEEPER—Respected sir and kind friend: Please rite me a letter saying is there a man of the name of Reuben Jinks in your place. If there is please rite me saying is he a smallish man with one leg a mite shorter than the other, dark complected and bawled in a place about the size of a scaser on top of his head. His hare is a sandyish red and he aint got no front teeth, and I don't spose the black and blue spots he had over his eyes when he left home is there yit, cause he knows that raw beefsteak allus cures them.

If Rube is there tell him to come back home and behave himself and be kin stay. Winter's coming on and he ain't sense enuff to take keer of hisself in cold wether and he kin come home and stay if he'll promiss not to set hisself up as ruler of this roost agin, which he aint and can't be long as I'm this side of glory. Rube is my husband. He's a gritty kind of a little chap, but I'm mostly one or two mesmy for him. Rite me saying is Rube there and is he coming home to his

The Water All Wrong.

"I'm disgusted with this yer water supply," remarked a colored gentleman, as he took a drink at the hydrant.

"What's the matter with it?" asked a man who heard him.

"Why, the city's runnin' ice water now! It's cold weather, but in summer, when yer wants ice water, it's as warm as yer please."—Tid Bits.

An Unsuccessful Process.

"And that is silver ore, is it?" said Mrs. Snagg, as she examined a piece of curious looking mineral. "Yes, my dear," replied her husband. "And how do they get the silver out?" "They smelt it." "Well, that's queer," she added, after applying her nose to the ore; "I smelt it, too, but didn't get any silver."—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Incidents of the Civil War.

"I think I have suffered more at the hands of the southerners than any man I ever knew," said a G. A. R. man the other day. "I was seven times wounded, was imprisoned at Andersonville for a year, had my house burned at Gettysburg and married a southern widow."

ORDERED TO CALL.

Capt. McAllister Advised To-day to Land Passengers and Mails.

Capt. McAllister was advised by wire to-day by Capt. Webber, of the C. P. Steamship Service at Vancouver, to anchor the Parthia, due to-day, off the outer wharf and to land passengers and mails only.

When Mr. Parmelee, Assistant Customs Commissioner, was here a few days since he gave instructions to the effect that before any Chinese would be allowed to land their papers must be inspected on board the ship. This order will have the effect of detaining the ships fully seven hours in reaching Vancouver. To such a measure the loss will be a serious one. It has been suggested that the Board of Trade take the matter up and advise the withdrawal of this obnoxious order, and to allow the Chinese to land and be placed in some building for inspection without delay to the steamers. If this is not done, and that at once, it is feared no more vessels will call at this port on the inward trip.

Christ-Church Cathedral.

On Sunday next the morning sermon will be preached by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Rochester and at the evening there will be addresses on the subject of missions by the Lord Bishops of Rochester, Minnesota and Huron.

Victoria Athletic Club.

At a meeting of the V. A. C. held last evening Mr. E. Shade received the silver medal for the ten mile championship. The medal now becomes the property of Mr. Shade, as he held it during two years and defeated all competitors. The secretary reported fifty members on the roll and the club in a good condition financially.

The Harbor Bridge.

It is reported that the Albion Iron Works have been awarded the contract for the iron work necessary in the erection of the harbor railway bridge, and that work thereon will be begun at an early date. The rock work on the Songish reserve is being proceeded with rapidly. Grading will be completed in the course of three weeks or a month at the furthest.

Black and Tan Cigars.

The Game Season.

Numerous pot-hunters are engaged in slaughtering game in the adjacent districts. On Sunday last two packs of hounds ran deer near Alderly, on the Saanich road, and it is reported that a fawn was slaughtered on the beach. Many men and boys are out hunting in Lake District, and it would be in the interest of true sportsmanship to make an example of a few law-breakers.

Tony Cigars.

Fraser River Salmon.

On Thursday last, a train of 20 cars loaded with Fraser river salmon left New Westminster for eastern Canada. The train was a special one, and placarded with flaming posters, advertising the Fraser river salmon. The Columbian says the salmon were packed by the British American and Phœnix Packing Companies. The total shipment will aggregated 312,000 pounds.

Gladstone Cigars.

Attempted Incendiarism.

An unknown miscreant attempted to make a bonfire out of the H. B. Co. and C. P. N. Co.'s buildings the other day. A barrel containing lubricating oil, which was stored under the approach to the wharf between the two buildings, was surrounded by inflammable material and a match applied. Fortunately the barrel did not ignite and the fire died out without doing any damage.

Important.

The goods damaged by water in consequence of the fire in the Arcade building will be sold at private sale commencing on Tuesday at Spencer's Arcade. Brussels Carpets, Tapestry Carpet, Felt and Hemp Carpet, Rope Matting, Kidderminster and Three-ply Carpets, Hearthrugs, Mats.

Men's and Boys' Hats, Caps, Ties, Gloves, Shirts, Socks, Underwear; also the goods damaged by the smoke. All goods will be marked in plain figures and sold for cash only. *

St. George's Society Picnic.

Members of St. George's society accompanied by their families held a basket picnic at Colwood to-day. Four large busses conveyed the happy throng to the picnic ground, and Haynes' band enlivened the first successful outing of the society. Mr. J. J. Austin, the indefatigable secretary of the society, was in charge and assisted materially in making the picnic a success. During the afternoon dancing was indulged in on the green, and athletic sports occupied the attention of the sterner sex.

Harrison Hot Springs.

Hon. Thos. White and family are visiting St. Alice Hotel, Harrison Hot Springs. Mr. White is very much pleased with everything, and says that he had no idea that there was such a well appointed place in the province. The ladies of the party are loud in their regrets at the necessity which will oblige them to remain but a short time at the springs.

Hon. Senator Schultz is now at the Springs, where he already begins to feel the good effects of the healing waters. It is probable that he will build a cottage near the Springs, where he proposes to reside a part of every year.

The weather is charming and visitors are numerous.

United Order of Honor.

The Jubilee Lodge No. 118, United Order of Honor, was organized last night by Supreme President, Alex. Rothenstein, of California, when the following officers were installed: Past President, C J Phillips; President, B Aaronson; Vice-President, Mrs S Aaronson; Secretary, W Jackson, Jr; Treasurer, W H Brooks; Chaplain, W Betron; Conductor, W McNeil; Inside Guard, T Douglas; Outside Guard, Law Popham; Trustees—M Moss, I X Blum, Rich'd Hilbert; Medical examiners, Jackson, Renwick. The institution is for mutual benefit during sickness and at death, the members receiving a liberal allowance when incapacitated by sickness, while each one carries a life insurance.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. *

THE NOMINATIONS.

Hon. Messrs. Humphreys and Turner Candidates for Election.

The nomination for candidates for the representation of the City of Victoria in the Local Legislature, rendered vacant by the acceptance of the treasurer's portfolio by the Hon. J. Turner, took place between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock this afternoon, in Philharmonic Hall, Mr. J. E. McMillan, sheriff, acting as returning officer.

The Hon. Thomas Basil Humphreys was nominated by Mr. Chas. Gowen, seconded by Mr. W. A. Robertson, and assented to by Messrs. Fred. Reynolds, J. Woods and Wm. Prout.

Hon John Herbert Turner, nominated by Alex. McLean, seconded by Mr. William McKay, and assented to by James Muirhead, J. H. Todd, Jas. Smith, Chas. Hayward and Wm. McNiffe.

The returning officer announced the names of the candidates nominated and stated that the polls for the recording of the votes of the electors would open at 8 o'clock to-morrow (Saturday) morning and remain open until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, of which all electors should govern themselves accordingly.

Railway Officials Coming.

Mr. Lucius Tuttle, passenger traffic manager of the C. P. R., and Mr. R. Kerr of Winnipeg, general freight and passenger agent, are on their way to this coast. This is Mr. Tuttle's first trip west, and he has been making arrangements for it ever since last January. So far he has been exceedingly pleased with his trip and anticipates still greater pleasure between here and the coast. Accompanied by Mr. Kerr, he will leave for the coast Tuesday morning, stopping over at all places of interest on the way. They will probably spend about two weeks on the coast and will visit Portland, Seattle and Tacoma, and see if they cannot work up some business for the C. P. R. All the agencies on the Pacific division will be visited.—Winnipeg Call.

The Correct Thing.

A few weeks since an item appeared in the local press to the effect that Mr. W. E. Osterhout, the genial mine host of the Brunswick, had taken his departure for the east ostensibly to visit relatives, but generally believed to be for the purpose of choosing from amongst the fair daughters of Eve a helpmate. That gentleman, from Wellington, Prince Edward County, Ont., under date of the 11th inst., thus writes to the Editor of THE TIMES:

DEAR SIR—Permit me to deny the soft impeachment regarding myself, in an item in your issue of August 2nd. The sole purpose of my visit home at the present time is to see my mother, who has been, and still is, seriously ill. When I decide to join the ranks of the benedicts I am quite sure I shall be able to find among British Columbia's fair daughters one in every respect suitable, and thus save the expense of a double ticket. By publishing the above you will oblige

Yours, sincerely,
W. E. OSTERHOUT.

Prominent Railroaders.

By the Geo. E. Starr to-day there arrived in this city Mr. T. W. Teasdale, general passenger and ticket agent, Mr. M. M. Wheeler, traveling passenger agent of the C. St. Paul M. & O. and C. & N. W. Railway, St. Paul; and Mr. W. H Mead, general agent of these lines at Portland. These gentlemen claim for the Royal route that it is always on time.

By the same steamer there also arrived Mr. F. Boyd, Minneapolis, general eastern passenger and ticket agent of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and St. Louis and the Rock Island railways, forming the famous "Albert Lea Route," represented on the Pacific Coast by Mr. Charles Kennedy, of Portland, who is likewise of the party. They are accompanied by Capt. Allmond, general agent of the Pacific and Oriental Steamship Company, who is on a tour of investigation regarding the C. P. R. and its Pacific steamship line. It is seldom that such a galaxy of genial, hale-fellows-well-met are to be found in one party. They represent the most important railways in the northwest of the American Union. They return south in the morning.

Speaker Fitzherbert.

By the Yosemite from the mainland on Wednesday night there arrived from the east on his way to New Zealand Sir William Fitzherbert, K. C. M. G., Speaker of the New Zealand Legislative Council, accompanied by Lady Fitzherbert, their daughter and a grandchild. He is on his way back from London where he was attending the Colonial Conference. Sir William has been a resident of that colony for fifty years. To a representative of an eastern journal he said that he was a genuine Britisher, and had no sympathy with those who had said "Let the Colonies go." Whilst in London he had met the Canadian delegates, Sir Alex. Campbell and Mr. Sandford Fleming. It had been a pleasure to him to assist them in the projects they brought before the conference, and partly on their advice he took the Canadian route home. He had formed a high opinion of the Canadian Pacific Railway and appreciated to the utmost Mr. Fleming's Pacific cable scheme, which would have his heartiest co-operation, as also the line of steamers between British Columbia and New Zealand. He leaves for home at the earliest moment possible, as a general election is in progress in New Zealand and he has been cabled for to take a hand. He has not decided whether he will return via San Francisco or direct from here. He is at the Driard.

Wad-El-Ward's Lecture.

Dr. Jas. Wad-El-Ward, of Jerusalem, Palestine, the renowned Oriental, lectured in costume in the Victoria last evening before a good audience, and was greeted by hearty applause. His wife, Rebecca, also in costume, was seated on the platform and assisted by singing with her husband in various languages. The last song, "A little talk with Jesus," brought tears to many eyes and all went away greatly pleased with the entertainment. As Wad-El-Ward pressed on to the Chinese of his subject he made hours seem like minutes. The trouble was that the discourse was too full of facts, history, tradition and humorous relations of episodes to be remembered. The comparisons of the manners of civilization with those of his own country were not always favorable to the former, and the loose divorce laws existing in many parts of the civilized world met with very severe criticism. The dress, cuisine, houses, streets, fields, manner of extending hospitality in the Orient were ably expatiated upon, and the lecture deserves a more extended notice than space will permit. This evening Wad-El-Ward will give his second entertainment, entitled "A trip in disguise with the Mohammedans to Mecca," in which will be fully described the rites and ceremonies of the Mohammedans, the Bedouins, sacred canopy, mountain of blessing. Those who attend are assured that their time will be profitably spent.

A HAPPY BRIDAL AFFAIR.

Marriage of Rev. W. D. Grant and Miss Phin at Hespeler, Ont.

We take the following account of the marriage of Rev. W. D. Grant, a brother of Mr. John Grant, M. P. P., of this city, and Mr. Robert Grant, of Vancouver, from the Guelph Mercury: The event of last week in the vicinity of Hespeler was the marriage of Sarah, eldest daughter of John Phin, Esq., well known agriculturist of the Township of Waterloo, to the Rev. W. D. Grant, of New York. As Miss Phin was a very popular young lady, the family to whom she belongs widely known and universally respected, and the gentleman to be her happy possessor a prominent young clergyman, the rumor a few weeks ago that the tieing of the nuptial knot was shortly to cause one of the fair ones to secede from the ranks of her companions, caused considerable sensation and favorable comment, especially amongst the belles and gallants.

The marriage ceremony took place at Kennaquhsir, the residence of the bride's father, on Thursday, the 21st inst. Before two p. m., the hour appointed for the ceremony to take place, there were present upwards of seventy-five guests, consisting of relatives of the bride and groom and friends from towns, cities, and various sections of the province. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. Henders, of Hespeler, assisted by Rev. Mr. Rose, of Elora, and Rev. J. White, of Hespeler. The bride was gorgeously attired in a rich traveling suit, and although always very pretty, it was the opinion of the guests that she looked especially beautiful on this occasion. Her bridesmaids were Miss Annie and Lizzie Phin, her sisters, who were also elegantly attired, and as well as the bride carried beautiful bouquets. The groom was supported by the Rev. Mr. McLachlan, of Toronto, and Rev. Mr. Beattie, of Blair, Ont. Seldom, we presume, has it been the pleasure of a clergyman to stand before a more attractive and dignified bridal party. The presents arranged on tables presented a glittering array of splendor, and it is quite needless to add "were both numerous and costly." One was three hundred and twenty dollars, all in gold, mostly twenty dollar pieces, the gift of the bride's venerable grandfather, Squire Phin. The wedding gifts and also the entire company of guests have been separately photographed by Mr. Conon, a distinguished artist of Elora. The proceedings ended, the guests partook of a most sumptuous lunch, prepared in first-class style, after which the happy couple took an eastern bound evening train for an extended tour to Toronto, Thousand Islands, Ottawa, Montreal, thence to Saratoga and many other points of interest in the Eastern States, followed, of course, by the multiplied wishes of all present for their future happiness.

Rev. Mr. Grant is favorably known to several in Hespeler and vicinity. He was recently a student of Knox College, Toronto, and ultimately a graduate in an Eastern States University. He is now the esteemed pastor of a Presbyterian Church in the city of New York. Of the lady of his choice we know very much that is estimable. As well as being accomplished in many of the fine arts, and in parlor culture, she is thoroughly conversant with the management of domestic affairs. Happy husband! Happy wife! May the choicest blessings of a kind Providence ever smile on them.

The Vancouver Herald on the Metlakahtla Agency Appointment.

Discussing the appointment to the vacancy in the Indian Agency at the Metlakahtla mission, the Vancouver Herald, of a recent issue, says: "It is however clear to everyone that certain qualifications for an office of this kind are absolutely necessary to the proper discharge of the duties connected with it. These qualifications are not to be acquired in a day nor a year and as suitable parties can be found already possessing them, from these a selection should be made. Were the duties of a routine character an appointment of this kind might be excusible, but when a knowledge of the language and character of the Indian are indispensable to the proper discharge of an agent's duties, one already qualified in these respects ought to be selected. The Metlakahtla Indians are at present too in a very unsettled state. They have got the idea that the government is dispossessing them of their land and an agent who could not communicate with them in their own language about the Government's intentions would be at a disadvantage. As already said we do not know anything about the appointment or on whose responsibility or at whose recommendation it was made. We are slow to believe, on mere report, that Mr. Chisholm had anything to do with it. It is one however that requires reconsideration, if the qualification of Mr. Pagan, or rather his want of qualification, is as stated by report. There must be something wrong somewhere, when such an appointment is even thought of, or the public have not yet got possession of all the facts connected with it."

ALASKAN NEWS.

Large Shipment of Bullion—The Seized Sealers at Sitka.

ALASKA, (via Nanaimo), Aug. 18.—The Treadwell mill ships by this steamer $118,000, the product of 27 days' run, and they are now adding 120 stamps more to the mill, and will have it completed in a few months, when completed it will be the largest mill in the world, having 240 stamps under the one roof. There have been several sales of mines within the last sixty days, some of them very rich and others wild cat.

The steamer Alki arrived a few days ago with an 80-stamp mill to be put up on the Alaska Union Milling & Mining Co.'s property.

There have been some very rich strikes made in the Mexican tunnels, and they are making arrangements to put up one more large stamp mill very shortly.

No news from the Yukon lately. It is reported that the Olympian landed some missionaries at the head of Tylee Inlet, who are going down the Yukon to where Bishop Seghers was killed.

At Sitka the harbor is full of schooners and steamers seized by the cutter Rush in Behring sea—the American schooners Challenge, Lilly L, and the British schooner W.P. Sayward, Anna Beck, Dolphin and Grace. It is reported there are about fifteen more on the way from the Behring sea which will arrive in Sitka in a few days. The United States marshal turned all the Indians out of the vessels on the beach without food or money in a very severe rain storm and all the citizens of Sitka got indignant about it and raised such a cry for humanity that he was forced to put them back on their vessels again where they have comfortable quarters with plenty to eat. Some of the Indians put on the beach by the marshal hold gold medals presented to them by the President of the United States for their bravery and humanity in saving American seamen off the coast of Vancouver Island from wrecked American ships.

ISLAND RAILWAY LANDS.

The Interview of Squatters with the Hon. T. White.

In respect to the report in Wednesday's number of THE TIMES of the interview between the Hon. T. White, Minister of the Interior, and the squatters on Island Railway lands and on the Newcastle townsite, a gentleman who is in a position to know something about the true position of affairs has informed us that the facts were not on that occasion laid before the Minister. Three or four squatters, who contended that they had a right to the coal and other minerals, gave Mr. White to understand that they had pre-empted their land previous to its reservation for railway purposes. If such were the case they would undoubtedly be entitled to all they claim, as other squatters previous to the reserve have received crown grants which give them the minerals, etc. But we are advised that the settlers who met Mr. White went upon their lands after the reserve had been placed upon it for railway purposes, which would exclude them from a right to claim the minerals. The whole dispute is dependent upon the time of squatting—before or after the reserve. Where settlement took place before that time, squatters will be conformed in their rights. As to the Newcastle squatters, it is claimed by the E. & N. R. Co. that they are the legatees of the government, which reserved the land for a town and sold lots thereon. It is proposed to continue the same policy and utilize the lands for that purpose.

Reply to Requisition.

To Charles Gowan, W. A. Robertson, F'k. Reynolds, John Woods, John Boyd, Geo. Thomson, Jas. Porter, John Stewart, William Prout, Geo. Phillips, and 257 others.

GENTLEMEN,—I have good reason to be satisfied with your influential requisition inviting me to be your candidate at the coming election.

It assures me that you have invited me on the ground of what I have already said, without expecting from me any pledge. I will try and do my best to deserve your confidence by stating my opinion and the reason why I accept the proposal you have so generously made to me.

Probably the greatest difficulty in political conduct is knowing what is right to do, and doing it when it is known. I think one of the principal causes of our discontent is attributable to the absence of a sufficiently formidable opposition. In fact, the opinion gains ground every day that, the gentlemen who oppose the government are altogether inadequate to successfully neutralize mischievous legislation. Our citizens have now the opportunity of expressing their opinion on the Million Dollar Loan, said to be already dissipated.

If the voter's dissatisfaction is not indicated by defeating Mr. Turner, then the outlook will be dreary indeed, and the future of the province imperilled by a series of financial blunders, wholly inexcusable.

I sincerely hope it may be our good fortune to be victorious.

For myself I need only say that you may rely on my best efforts to forward wholesome legislation,—to mitigate as much as possible the evils of the past and to prevent wasteful extravagance in the future.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
T. B. HUMPHREYS.
